W-9 and vendor onboarding (on request)

Do not publish a W-9, EIN, bank details, or home address in this pack or on the website.

How a customer requests forms

Email jarvis@agi-jarvis.com with the subject SheetSpeed vendor forms and list what you need:

- W-9
- The customer's supplier or vendor setup form
- A bank or ACH form
- A countersigned DPA (the standard DPA is already at https://sheetspeed.agi-jarvis.com/dpa/; a signed PDF is available on request)

Include the customer's legal name, a billing contact, and any vendor-portal instructions.

What happens next

1. The operator, Philip Dressler, doing business as Dressler Labs, completes and signs the form privately.
2. The signed W-9 or banking form is sent back by email to the requestor, or uploaded to the customer's vendor portal if that was asked.
3. A countersigned DPA is returned as a PDF, using the customer's legal name on the signature block.

Turnaround target: [DECISION: vendor-form turnaround — draft default is two business days (Pacific/Honolulu) for a W-9 or a countersigned standard DPA. Supplier portals that need a new account, or any non-standard contract language, may take longer.]

The standard DPA, privacy policy, subprocessors list, and security page can be used immediately without waiting for a wet signature.
